SEAMEN'S GUILD NEWS.

The Tyne.—John Manley Simonds, an old "Worcester" boy has passed to his rest. We have lost one of the bright stars, the brightest perhaps of all our Seamen's Guild. At the time of his death, he was Master of the Anglo-American Motor Oil Vessel, Stonegate. The vessel was just casting off apparently and was forced back by a big sea. Simonds was thrown against the coping of the Jetty, and fell unconscious, only to pass away a few minutes later.

The last time he was on the Tyne, one Sunday in July, he came all the way from Elswick, above Newcastle, to make his Communion and then gave up the rest of the morning to ship visiting, taking one of our boats and his own section of the river.

Absolutely "faithful unto death," so his passing to higher service in Southampton Water constitutes a new challenge to our work in that place.

F.A.W.W.

SIMONDS.—As a result of an accident on board of his ship on the 29th October, 1925, Captain John Manley Simonds, aged 29 years (son of an old member, Captain F. J. Simonds).
