Report of the Board of Managers

The Society starts its sixty-seventh year greatly encouraged by the returns from its past efforts and with confidence as to the future. Detailed summaries and reports of the various fields and stations are shown on the following pages.

The Work. Progress has been made in every branch of our activity. The religious work has increased; the social advantages and entertainments have been more largely availed of, and the practical charity offered through our free shipping bureau and savings department has been more effective and helpful than ever before. During the past year $115,282.49 has been received by us for transmission and safekeeping, and during the past six years the aggregate sum of $674,112.93 has been entrusted to us by our sailors. We have continued to co-operate with the Legal Aid Society, to which we have for several years made an annual contribution in recognition of their helpful service. They have taken appropriate action on 481 cases referred to them by our chaplains.

New Building. The success of the lodging house in Brooklyn, "The Breakwater," corner Furman Street and Atlantic Avenue, fully justifies the work carried on there, and indicates the necessity for our new building to be erected at South Street and Coenties Slip, Manhattan. Additional subscriptions amounting to $150,177.00 have been secured for this purpose. The total fund for the land and building now amounts to $406,744.98. The land has cost $242,500, and it is estimated that a twelve-story building to accommodate 500 sailors would cost $500,000, leaving a balance of about $335,500 to be secured. $75,000 of the subscriptions are contingent upon the raising of this balance before May 1st, 1911. The experience of those in charge of the Mills Hotels in this City shows that a building of this character can readily be made self-supporting. Attention is especially directed to the detailed report of the Building Committee.

The "Lookout." During the past year the Society has undertaken the publication of a monthly paper, appropriately named the "Lookout," whose first issue appeared in May. The paper is sent free to those who contribute two dollars a year or more to the Institute and to others at a nominal price of one dollar per annum. It has now a monthly circulation of about 2,300 copies. It has been used to convey to those who are interested in the Institute a better understanding of the work we are doing and to inform them of important happenings in the various departments. It also purposes to keep them in touch with matters of importance in the life of the seamen and to inform them of what other institutions and agencies are doing for the men of the sea.

Shipping Bureau. Our Society is doing its full share in the fight against the traffic carried on by Crimps and sailors' boarding house keepers and our most effective weapon is our free shipping bureau. The number of seamen shipped without payment of illegal fees or bonuses during the past year from our Battery Station and North River Station was 2253, and 873 men were provided with temporary employment on ships and on shore. More than 137,610 visits have been made to our reading rooms and sailors' home.

These facilities are appreciated more and more by captains seeking crews. The United States Naval Auxiliary Service continues to ship all its men from our shipping bureau in the Battery Station.

Legislation. The Committee on Legislation has continued its activity in watching violations, demanding the enforcement of the recent laws for the protection of men employed on scows and barges.

Boat and Harbor Service. Our harbor boat "Sentinel" continues to add greatly to the efficiency of our institute work and during the past year it has transported 1930 seamen from ship to shore and from harbor to hospitals, and it has visited 599 vessels in the harbor.

In Memoriam. We record with sorrow the deaths of Mr. Henry Dexter, Mr. John V. Brower and Mr. Charles F. Cummings. Mr. Dexter was one of our lay Vice-Presidents. His unflinching and sympathetic service for the past thirty-nine years will cause his memory to last while the Society endures. Mr. Brower was an honorary member at the time of his death. He had been an active worker on the Board since 1890 and his loss will be keenly felt. Mr. Cummings came on the Board in 1892, succeeding his father, Thomas F. Cummings, one of the original members.

Legacies. The Society has been encouraged this year by substantial legacies: one of $25,000 from Mr. Henry Dexter, one of $7,000 from Mrs. Mary Rhineland King, and $2,000 from the estate of Mary Nebins Mayo.

Finances. We have been again compelled to draw from our Trust Funds to meet the difference between our receipts from donations and contributions amounting to $31,917.77, and our expenses amounting to $40,380.73.

Canon XVII provides that the Seamen's Church Institute of New York is to be reckoned among the Church charities for which provision is to be made, and the attention of the clergy is called to this fact.

The Last of the Floating Churches

The Seamen's Church Institute of New York, during its long history of sixty-six years, has owned and conducted services in three floating churches. The first was erected by the Young Men's Church Missionary Society and designated as the Church of Our Saviour, and was moored at the bulkhead, foot of Pike Street, East River.

In 1843 this church was transferred by deed to this Society, and became at once an object of attention and a marked institution of the city. The decay of this boat and building rendering it untenable, it was abandoned in 1866.

In 1846 the second floating church, the Church of the Holy Comforter, was built, and was located at the foot of Dey Street, on the North River, where it remained for ten years; subsequently it was transferred to the foot of Laight Street, and then to the pier at Hubert Street. The Board of Managers disposed of this church in 1868, because of constant and large expenditure to keep it in condition for use and an excessive rental for the slip in which the building was moored.

At the close of the year 1869 the third floating church was completed, the second designated by the name of Church of Our Saviour. It was moored at the foot of Pike Street, East River, and remained in about the same location for forty-one years.

This church was first opened for divine service on Sunday, January 9th, 1870, Bishop Horatio Potter officiating, assisted by the Chaplain in charge. On Sunday, Christmas Day, 1910, this last floating church brought its career in the Borough of Manhattan, New York City, to a close with a farewell service at midday, the Rev. Archibald R. Mansfield, Superintendent of the Society, officiating.

Because there was no longer a congregation at the old mooring, and no place could be secured for it suitable to the work of the Society, the Board of Managers presented it to the Archdeaconry of Richmond, in the Diocese of New York. On January 6th it was removed by the Merritt & Chapman Derrick and Wrecking Company, and towed to Mariners' Harbor, Staten Island (see picture), where it will end its days on the shore of the Kill von Kull, as All Saints' Parish Church.

These Floating Churches, unique among the ecclesiastical structures of the world, have been heard of in the remotest islands and lands reached by commercial traffic, as places of spiritual refuge for the God-fearing men of the sea who have visited the port of New York.

Building Committee.

NEW YORK, December 7th, 1910.

The Building Committee desires to make the following report of its work since December 1st, 1909:

By the purchase of No. 26 Coenties Slip the Society has now acquired all the land necessary for its proposed building having a frontage of 91 feet on South Street and 112 feet on Coenties Slip. The contract for the first lot was signed in December 1905, and for the last lot in January 1910. The land has cost $242,500, and plans have been made for a twelve-story building on this plot the estimates for which, based on specifications, show a cost for the proposed building of about $500,000.

Through Robert Shaw Minturn, Esq., the corporation of the Trustees of St. Luke's Retreat became interested last spring in the question of assisting us in completing the purchase of the necessary land for our building, and, as will be seen below, that corporation contributed $62,500 for this purpose. As appears from the above, the Society must raise about $340,000 additional in order to erect and fully pay for the land and building, and inasmuch as $75,000 of our present subscriptions are conditional upon the entire amount being raised by May 1st, 1911, the most strenuous efforts should be made by each member of our Society to interest his friends to secure the sum still lacking by the said date.

The following subscriptions have been received for the new Seamen's Institute at South Street and Coenties Slip since December 1, 1909:

BATTERY STATION, GENERAL READING ROOM

Annual Report of the Seamen's Benefit Society.

SECRETARY'S REPORT FOR 1910.

The Seamen's Benefit Society has held six regular business meetings at the house of Mrs. W. B. Shoemaker, No. 16 West 55th Street.

The Thursday, Saturday and Sunday social teas for officers and boys, have been continued, at the Battery Station, No. 1 State Street.

The social work at the Breakwater, No. 19 Atlantic Avenue, Brooklyn, has also been taken over, as well as the upkeep of the equipment of both No. 1 State Street, and the "Breakwater".

The lectures and demonstrations of "First Aid to the Injured" seamen are another new feature introduced by the Society.

Many members and their friends continue to send quantities of magazines and knitted articles to the Superintendent.

The Society held a sale on the afternoon of December 9th, at the house of the Rev. Alfred Duane Pell, 929 Fifth Avenue, which sale cleared $461.20.

The Society is deeply grateful to all its friends, and begins the New Year with the renewed hope that no seaman will call upon it in vain.

AUGUSTA MORRIS DE PEYSTER,
Secretary.

Seamen's Benefit Society, in Account with H. Van C. Lung, Treasurer.

November 30, 1909, to November 28, 1910.
