Monday, Sept 28, 1846. This afternoon by appointment of <sup>the</sup> Committee & agreement with Capt Elijah Peck for the gratuitional use of the Steam Boat Suffolk on her arrival from Southport I met a number of the Clergy with members of the Board at Peck's Slip to bring down the Chapel of the Holy Comforter from foot of 29th St where it has been built to the place hovey for her to be moved at the foot of Day St.

The Capt of the Suffolk on arrival at the wharf declined entering the Chapel on that day on account as he said of the wind in the <sup>water</sup> River The Clergy Board of Managers & Lads being all ready for washing & it appearing that 95

The wind need be no objection to her removal at request of the Committee I went with the Treasurer & Mr Underhill <sup>old ship</sup> & Mr Merrill threw the Steam boat Pilot, at 6 P.M. horn & in 40 minutes took the whole company from Peck's Ship & we were on our way to <sup>to</sup> St. George with them the Ladies where we arrived in Parchment. & found the Chapel hauled out all ready. We were received on board by Mr John R Livingston the Chairman of the Building Committee & found a number of Ladies & the Recluse of Church of the Ascension & St. Salvator Church with others of the Clergy & a company of laymen. We were soon fastened on to the Steamboat & proceed up down the North River with the Church of the Holy Comforter at the rate of 4½ miles an hour. We landed safely with the Chapel at foot of St. George & it was moored at the end of No. 8 Ship until the next day when at 5 P.M. I hired 10 men & in company with the Committee the Church was hauled into the bulk head on the dock & safely moored though the wind was high, and the operation of turning the building rooms with the wind & tide forcing the head up the river ~~the~~ dangerous procedure. We were from 4 AM till 5 P.M before we could get the vessels in the dock to move out so as to permit the entrance of the Chapel. At last they had unloaded 4 Canal boats, 1 large Sloop with over 50 tons of salt moved landed & a Schooner with salt moved out and enabled the Chapel Chapel to be drawn in. This was the situation at starting.

The narrowest part of the dock was only about 4 feet wider than the girders of the Chapel, that all the vessels had to be moved before I could be hauled in.

Sketch now moved by Sept 28, 1846.

all the above vessels had to be moved.
The delay was very perplexing as it kept me on the wharf all day. However at 5 P.M. the fasts were unloosed - and cast off and

This end was hauled north & kept from downing up the river by a bauler on the south wharf.

when she swung round for it the hawser had given way, there would have been a bad crash against the sides of the Shupper at the end of the pier worth some being the barrel with projecting brosprit that had burst out from accommodation there. But as the hawser was a new one though the wind hardest first seemed to be first as she began to swing round, the cleats and the hawser kept her off & she was shot ahead into the dock & in 20 minutes was up to the Calk head where she was made fast. I paid each of the men 13 in number I think 25<sup>s</sup> each by request of Mr Young as he said I having engaged them knew who they were.

At 4 o'clock I reached home thankful that the operation of moving had been performed without a scratch or any damage to the building -

In the morning I went to house with a severe cold in my throat that I was obliged to send to Zion Church & beg for assistance of Revd Mr. Cox if he had any Layman who was to occupy the pulpit for him. He accordingly came & preached & read service. His text was Master convert them not that we perish.

In afternoon Revd P. W. Balch - who was on the ship Great Western which reached this port on 30th Sept 18 days from Liverpool after being 36 hours in the greatest possible <sup>21st left 1846</sup> danger often lives in a gale, preached to an overflowing congregation. Only  $\frac{1}{3}$  of the people who came were able to get into the house when it was completely crowded full. The gang plank was hoisted up to prevent the boats from sinking by the addition of more people.

The crew ~~on~~ part of the Great Wester said he addressed them at the close as those who had been with him in a great common peril from which God had mercifully delivered them. As he had been formed with him & them that would last with hope to them gallant conduct he & others over them live. They might be in as much greater spiritual danger, the awful wrath of God from sin. They now needed in like manner a Almighty Savior. He would deliver them if they as mighty called upon him or when they were in danger at sea.

His sermon was from St John's Epistle written to you Fathers little children, young men. &c.

The number of the visitors in the morning was large - they composed most of the congregation. In the afternoon the congregation ~~soon~~ completely filled the house -
The services at the baptism were very interesting from the fine looking gentlemen appearance of the very ~~old~~ young man, dedicating himself to God. He is married has a young child he wishes baptized this desire in the baptism often shuns & fails to look into the subject & desire to dedicate himself first to God.

Oct. 29, 1846

I was called by the Chief of the Police at Corner of Pike St to view the remains of a body picked up at foot of Jefferson St. & attend with the Coroner to ascertain if it could be <sup>the husband</sup> of Mrs Thompson who was lost overboard, at foot of Jefferson St Opposite the rice mill, 12th of July, 1846 ~~who had been told the bell at the floating church where he attended,~~ I found there a part of a body, with no head nor arms nor shoulders and only with <sup>one</sup> leg, with a pretty new boot on, with nails in the toes, heels.

The coroner's memorandum given me was this. The man had been several months in the water at least more than 3. & had on. Blk pantaloons - Boots nearly new Striped Cotton Shirt, White flannel Shirt underneath. Canvas Suspender.
The latter may agree with the dress of a nigger who was lost 3 months since from the Brig. Ann Sill which laid near the floating ~~wharf~~ north & the north side of the Rev where Thompson was drowned When some oars were moved from the north side of the above dock which had not been moved for some months, these remains were seen floating yesterday at the north side of the end of the dock. It might have been the remains of this nigger. It might have been Thompson but as Thompson had on a worned about coat which would have probably kept his body together more probably it was the nigger - The coroner had a certificate signed and ordered seven whists I saw, to bury a coffin & send it to the house & decently inter the remains in the Potter's field. In the course of course any enquiry be made or done by Mrs Thompson respecting the incident. Mrs Thompson moved to Williamsburg about Aug. 22 - 1846

This was a very rainy Sunday yet the attendance of sailors was large. The church being full of nothing else - I preached in the morning from the text Who hath believed our report.

In the afternoon the regular service was omitted & instead thereof I went to the House of Mr. James in Water St near Beekman St & there accompanied the body of Thomas Thomas, <sup>Age 37</sup> to the funeral procession to the floating Church where the whole of the burial service was performed with considerable music appropriate -

Nov 8, 1846.

I was requested to attend the funeral of Thomas Thomas by his brother the 2<sup>d</sup> Officer of the Ship New North, hence tomorrow now for Liverpool on her next voyage.

At 3 P.M. the coffin was taken from the hearse and an American design with the stars & stripes spread over it. & then I proceeded before it up the middle aisle repeating the words I am the resurrection & the life saith the Lord.

After reading the Chant Lord help me know my end.

The last 4 verses of the 69 Select Psalm was sung beginning at 5th verse.

Thou sweepst us off as with a flood

We vanish here like dreams

At first we grow like grass that feels

The sun's revering beams &c

The XV Chant ch 1st d. Complain <sup>at</sup> 20 very wretched need

Then an anthem sang

Then I preached a sermon from these words.

They brother shall rise again.

in which I introduced the doctrine of the servants & slaves. in aqua fortis form, be my garrison The 124 Hymn was then sung at 33 verse

If sin be pardoned we're secure - Death hath no sting beside - The law gave sin its strength & power But Christ our ransom died -

~~The body was there~~, The top was then screwed on to coffin. It had before been marked by the undertaker. The art was very impressive on the whole congregation of sailors which completely filled the Church.

Then coming out of the Chapel I stood at the head of the corpse on the right side, nearest to the north window and close to the coffin. I read the grave service - At the word Earth to Earth ashes to ashes, dust to dust, the sexton <sup>true</sup> threw on gravel - which seemed deeply to affect the sailors. I saw many the service many wiping the tears from their eyes & think that the whole one of the most useful services we have ever had in the Church.

a prayer which he was truly thankful to obtain. He did not come to me with his subscriber after the service at the Chapel for a book; he felt so strange at being in a church. He now promised he would attend public worship & especially the Church where he he could find it or above. He was worry he had not had time to see the minister before he sailed - but he was to go off that afternoon - He was now on his way to noble Huske

Nov 19, 1846 Friday Inland the ship Great Western arrived here the last Monday. Was warmly greeted by the men who promised to come to church the next Sunday.
Had considerable conversation with the Boatswain who says he has now been 27 times across the attempts in the Great Western Respects highly of his privilege the men enjoy of attending the Floating Church. This he says is a good opportunity for them he wishes them to improve it.
He hopes to present himself with the men the next Sunday.

The day was lowering in the morn & the congregation of sailors though not large was respectable in numbers. In the afternoon it was much larger. The Church the last week has been repainted in the pantry & of the ceiling. The cracks in the board, have been lined with a black mark & the spaces lined off into blocks or bricks - the old paint has been scraped off & the whole appears better than it did originally.

The congregation filled the house this afternoon.
The men of the Great western now on her last trip were there & received many books.

In the morning I preached from the text And Moses said unto Aaron take censor & put fire therin form off the altar & put on incense - make an atonement for the people for there is wrath gone out from the Lord, the plague is begun.

In the afternoon In the Lord put I my trust, why say ye to my soul, flee as a bird unto thy own mountain.
Between the lesson & the Canticles I baptized.

In the course of the sermon there after noon speak of fears of spiritual declension I introduced the story of a Sunday School Scholar & member of a church a young man who was living at New Haven After the sermon had been more than half delivered a young man was strolling along the wharf & accidentally or providentially, came in. He was deeply affected by what he heard. He came to me with much emotion soon after that given out the books after the service, told me the state of his mind. He said he was never present at a scene which had so deeply affected him as what he had witnessed there. What he had heard May God strengthen & deepen his feelings. This name Lyman Clapp of Cabbotville Mass. He is in a druggist store near to the city to make purchases for the mercantile house with which he is connected. & being a stranger here he was strolling along the wharf & was induced from curiosity to come in. He continued without me some time, I gave him a set of New Testome tracts with the pamphlet of this topic for which he was very thankful.emptied his pockets & all the change which he had."
